Pentecost

Jesus disciples were celebrating a festival called Pentecost when suddenly a strong wind blew. Everyone's hair lifted up and suddenly there was a large noise. It looked like each disciple had a flame above their heads.

The Holy Spirit had come, just as Jesus promised. The disciples began to speak in different languages. Languages they never knew and yet they understood each other.

Peter reminded everyone what Jesus taught them. He told them how Jesus died and then went to Heaven. "It's time for us to begin a new life with God's spirit guiding us." Peter said.

The disciples were excited to live differently, guided by God's spirit. This was the beginning of the Christian church. Happy Birthday to the Church!

Scripture: John 14:26

"But the Helper will teach you everything. He will cause you to remember all the things I told you. This Helper is the Holy Spirit whom the Father will send in my name."
